
2024 Digital Praxis Poster (DPP) Sessions

CCCC Spokane, WA

Call for Proposals ~ Deadline: November 1, 2023

We are now accepting proposals for the 2024 Digital Praxis Posters at CCCC! The Digital Praxis Posters provide a space at CCCC for scholars and practitioners from across our field to share and discuss their innovative work with digital technologies. The DPP sessions invite a variety of work ranging from experimentation with new digital tools to the methodologies shaping research using these tools.

The Digital Praxis Poster sessions are currently scheduled to be held in person in Spokane. DPP sessions are always filled with deep and engaging conversations about digital projects, and are excited to continue that kind of engagement in Spokane.

We encourage presenters from every level of the institution: from graduate students to contingent faculty to senior faculty. We also encourage presenters to involve undergraduate students in preparation and delivery of their poster sessions.

Proposals are invited in the following categories:

1. Demonstration of digital tool
2. Digital pedagogy assignment
3. Research on or using digital tools
4. Digital facets of community and advocacy
5. Creative digital projects
6. Other

Your participation in the DPP will NOT count as your one presentation at CCCC. DPP sessions are generally held in two sessions, on Thursday and Friday of the conference. Poster proposals will be reviewed in a process separate from the formal CCCC reviews, and invited presenters will receive feedback from reviewers. After the review, we will provide accepted presenters with an official letter indicating that your proposal was reviewed and that you will be presenting for DPP for CCCC 2024. Names will also be in the Digital Praxis Posters program (circulated online) which itself will be referenced in the opening pages of the CCCC program.

If you would like to propose a poster presentation (as a team or individually), please fill out the form at this address:
