

INSTITUTE FOR CRITICAL DISABILITY
STUDIES

No Incompletes In 'Real Life'

Surviving and Reimagining Ableist
Institutions in Mad Times

While Centering the Medicine of Disability Justice

Stefanie Lyn Kaufman Mthimkhulu

Stefanie Lyn Kaufman Mthimkhulu (they/she) is the Founder and Director of Project LETS. As a multiply Disabled, Mad, psychiatric survivor, they are deeply committed to interrupting patterns of historical and present-day ableism that impact Disabled people and those perceived as/labeled with mental illness in medical, psychiatric, and academic systems.

They have over a decade of experience as an anti-carceral crisis responder, care worker, perinatal doula, death worker, and peer supporter. They are the author of We Don't Need Cops in Social Work and the Editor of Abolition Must Include Psychiatry.

Monday, May 13th

5:00 – 6:00 pm

Miller Hall 156 & On Zoom

Light refreshments provided.

Email icds@wwu.edu for questions and accommodations

learn more here