

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE AND LINGUISTIC DIVERSITY IN WRITING PROGRAMS

FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 2024
UNIVERSITY OF CENTRAL FLORIDA

This one-day event is designed to help writing programs develop promising practices in response to two pressing issues: the increasing use of AI-powered text generators and the increasing difficulty of supporting linguistic variation amid efforts to standardize. Join us to share, discuss, and collaborate.

Hosted by Laurie A. Pinkert & Shane Wood
CWPA Summer Regional Conference Series

SCAN FOR MORE INFO

