

Contribute your story to a collection of mixed Chicana oral histories!

Hello! I am a mixed Chicana looking to recruit and collaborate with mixed race female Mexican-Americans/Chicanas to tell their stories of cultural expression and identity as part of a research study. Participation is voluntary & includes a short survey and/or a video interview (up to 2 hours) with a review/edit of the final video.

With your consent, your oral history interview will potentially become part of an online, public archive to highlight our voices and present our varied embodied stories and culture to the broader US American public.

If interested in participating, please answer this Google Poll \(pre-screening survey\) or contact lschuermann@twu.edu.
