

SURVEY INVITATION

Dr. So-And-So is...

Often found in professional publications, conference presentations, grant applications, or other places, academic biosketches are a specific genre in scholarly communication that presents one's identity, ethos, and more.

We're interested in exploring how scholars construct their bios rhetorically to achieve various effects.

Tell us more...

We invite you to complete a survey to share any insights about constructing your academic biosketches.

This project has been reviewed by TTU IRB and granted an exempt.
