Title of Study: Locating Violence in Literacy: Rhetoric Informed by Bangladeshi Immigrant and International Students' Mobility through Midwestern Metropolitan Universities

Study Investigators:

1. Sujash Islam Purna, Department of English
2. Dr. Eileen Lagman, Department of English

We would like to interview you to learn more about marginalization, alienation, anxiety, institutional gatekeeping, etc to form a better understanding of literacy's institutional violence. The interview will last about 1 to 2 hours and will take place on Zoom or Whatsapp phone call or a physical location of your convenience. You can choose not to answer any of the questions you are asked and can stop the interview at any time. We will keep your answers confidential and will not share personal information about you with anyone outside the research team. You can request that your data be withdrawn from the research by contacting the study investigator.

Audio and/or video (in the case of a Zoom meeting) recordings will be made of the interview. Only the researchers will have access to these recordings. The researchers will listen to the recording and write down what people said during the interview. The written copy is called a transcription. The transcription will be saved but the recording will be destroyed.

We may share transcripts of interviews with researchers at other institutions. We will remove direct identifiers about you, such as your name, date of birth and other information we think could be used to identify you. However, we cannot guarantee there is no risk you could be identified. Information in free text fields such as those in transcripts of interviews may contain details that could be used with other available information to identify you (such as an employer name, job title).

Being in this study is voluntary. Please contact Sujash Islam Purna at purna@wisc.edu or Dr. Eileen Lagman at lagman@wisc.edu with questions about this study.
