MA IN RHETORIC AND WRITING STUDIES

SAN DIEGO STATE UNIVERSITY

Innovative Focus

Our program takes an interdisciplinary approach to the study of academic and professional writing with attention to cultural, digital, and traditional rhetorics and literacies. Students can specialize in the Teaching of Writing or Professional Writing. We also offer a more flexible blended program option.

Inclusive Community

Our small class sizes and dedicated faculty create a supportive community for all students. We offer opportunities to engage with others in the department, across SDSU, and in professional fields through conferences, internships, and alumni presentations.

Dynamic Preparation

Through coursework, community-engaged learning, internships, and paid teaching and tutoring opportunities, our graduates are well prepared to work in fields such as post-secondary education or technical communication. Alumni also go on to pursue additional education in doctoral or law programs.
